Peace and Allah's mercy and blessings be upon you

You're right my honorable brother, and hell and the worst of fate for all who have betrayed our religion and our people. I would like to start by a reminder that patience brings safety and haste brings regret or what is worse.

My honorable brother, what I admired in your posting is the point about striking them in their own home. For by Allah, whom there is no other God but Him, they will not reconsider their ways until they bleed as our children bleed, and they will not cease their tyranny until they are killed as our people are killed, and they will not think about the barbarity of what they are doing until they are destroyed just as they are destroying our houses. Even if only two brothers got together and carefully selected their targets and succeeded in executing their operation, they will achieve what an entire platoon of brothers fails to achieve in other countries. The forums are full of what can make it possible to achieve what we desire, thanks be to Allah, and what we need is to specify the target, choose the means, and rely on Allah. For as our mujahid Shaykh has said, don't consult anyone about the killing of an American, make up your mind and proceed with Allah's blessings.

My exalted brother, I hope that you do not misunderstand what I have said about being cautious for by Allah I want to teach the accursed Americans a lesson they will not forget, however and Allah is sufficient for me and He is the best Guardian, we live in an age where the honorable have become few and the helpers of the devils have become many, and if you were truly in America then you are well aware of the situation here. Thus caution then caution and then caution.

My brother if you liked what you have read and felt my sincere intentions in front of my Lord, let me know. Rejoice my honorable brother for Him who is to be praised and exalted could have brought us together to do what pleases Him.

And thanks be to Allah whom there is no God but Him.

Your brother Al-Karkhi
